II. Background Information

The Center for Research and Dialogue is an independent not-for-profit organization aiming to promote social, economic, and political rebuilding of Somalia. The Center is committed to promoting consensus decision-making at the policy and community level by encouraging and supporting the participation of citizens in the affairs affecting their lives. The goal of CRD is to empower Somali communities’ transition to peaceful change by providing them with a neutral venue to identify their issues, set priorities, and develop inclusive and sustainable outcomes.

III. Program Description

Department: Peacebuilding and Reconciliation

The Center for Research and Dialogue is conducting reconciliation programming throughout South-Central Somalia, particularly the central regions of Somalia (Hiran, Galgaduud, Galmudugam and Middle Shabelle). The project’s objective is to enhance stability in the central regions through consultations and dialogues that lead to inter-clan reconciliation and improved governance within and between the communities of the region.

The project facilitates inclusive, sustainable, and locally led conflict resolution and reconciliation processes between clans and sub-clans. The activities address longstanding conflicts that continue to cause mistrust and violence within and between the communities of the central regions. Genuine and inclusive reconciliation activities between the communities and clans of the central regions allows for conflict resolution and trust building. This establishes a platform that permits a dialogue process on regional administration and governance.
